Course Description: (as notated in the GSE Catalog)

Education and Computers establishes a foundation for using the computer and technology in a variety of educational settings across all subject areas. The course is hands-on in nature, with focus on current trends. Additionally, learners can expect to discuss theory, practice, and social/philosophical issues related to the use of computers in education. Some familiarity with computers is recommended; no prior computer skills are required.

Organization:

This is a hands-on course in which the topics are covered in the book/reading assignments, in short lectures, and on the computer. Readings and lectures are critical and will be discussed both in class and online. Computer skills are not a pre-requisite to this course; all computer-based assignments will be graded on content rather than technical skill. Ample class time will be given for working on computer-based assignments to ensure that learners have access to computer-based, peer-based, and instructor-based technical help where necessary.

By the end of the course, you should be able to:

- Demonstrate a foundation for using computers and technology effectively in the classroom.
- Improve understanding of computers and technology (both hardware and software) as necessary to support the first goal.
- Discuss advantages and limitations of computers and computer-based technologies in the classroom.
- Understand how teachers plan effective learning activities with computers and computer-enhanced technologies.
- Use computers and computer-enhanced technologies to support professional growth.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the roles of teaching standards such as the NJCCCS for Technology, NETS-T, and NETS-S in teaching and learning.
- Develop students' 21st century learning skills using computer-enhanced technology.
- Employ basic principles of multimedia design for educational activities.
- Establish familiarity with trending topics in technology and provide assessment (both highlights and pitfalls) of those trends as they relate to learning and teaching.
- Provide discourse on the social, ethical, and legal issues surrounding the use of technology in learning and teaching.
- Examine and reconsider knowledge and beliefs about the role of technology in the classroom.

Grading:

Grading will be on a 100 point scale:

A	90 - 100 points
B+	87 - 89 points
B	80 - 86 points
C+	77 - 79 points
C	70 - 76 points
D	60 - 69 points
F	0 - 59 points

Grading Policies:

Care, respect and integrity are expected in written and classroom exchanges. All written work, including postings on E-companion, should be proofread for clarity, spelling, and grammatical errors. Please use language that is appropriate for the classroom setting and maintain a professional tone in both your E-college postings and classroom discussions.

Graded assignments cannot be missed except in case of a serious issue. If you miss an assignment for another reason, it is at my discretion whether or not to allow a make-up. If there are questions or an assignment cannot be completed, contact me as soon as possible. Illness will require a doctor's note. Missing any assignment without a sufficient reason will result in a grade of 0 for that portion of the course. Certain late assignments may be accepted for partial credit as outlined in the assignment itself.

Online Portfolio Project: (15 points) This project will demonstrate the use of the web and web tools to create a teaching portfolio online. It is designed to not only learn about web publishing, but provide the benefit of creating an online resource that can be used in a future job search. Ample class time will be assigned to work on this project. The Online Portfolio link is due in the course dropbox by April 2nd. Specific details will follow in class.

School Board Group Project (15 points): You are to present to a hypothetical school board about some aspect of technology that makes use of your principles and techniques. Your job is to convince the board to consider something new. Class time will be assigned to work on this project. The presentations will be held on May 1st. Specific details will follow in class.

Current Events (15 points): This is an individual presentation activity. Current events are critically important in technology. New ideas and innovations are introduced on a daily basis. You are to find an article and share your findings with the class. Current events are assigned on a weekly basis beginning 2/6/2014. Specific details will follow in class.

Online discussion will be used on the E-Companion website to discuss the reading and lectures. (10 points + 3 points extra credit)

- You will be credited for participating if you have posted TWO comments to each week's reading thread by the due date.
- You may post to any or all of the topics under that reading thread as long as you post at least twice for each assigned due date.
- There are a total of 13 threaded discussions, and you may miss up to three weeks' worth to allow for technical issues, illness, etc. If you complete all 13, you will receive 3 points extra credit. Do not use missed posts for anything but a serious issue - You may need them later!
- Posts should be proofread for clarity, spelling, and grammar. Please use language that is appropriate for the classroom setting and maintain a professional tone.
- You must provide support for your posts for full credit. In other words, you cannot say simply, "I agree", you must say why you agree to receive credit.
- Responses are due on the dates (Wednesday evenings) assigned by 9 P.M. Earlier responses are encouraged to facilitate discussion amongst your classmates and to avoid technical issues that can crop up at the last minute.

In-Class Assignments (5 points + 2 points extra credit)

Occasionally, there will be short activities assigned to go along with a week's topic. There are a total of 4 days where in-class assignments are assigned, and you may miss one with no penalty. If you complete all 4 of the in-class assignments, you will receive 2 points extra credit. In-class assignments will be held on 1/23, 2/6, 2/13, and 2/20. Specific details will follow in class.

Quizzes (20 points): There will be three short quizzes with multiple choice, fill in the blank and open-ended questions during the semester. The quizzes will cover material covered in class, readings, and current events. Quizzes will be held on 2/27, 4/3, and 4/24. Specific details will follow in class.

Final Essay (20 points): There is a culminating paper assignment that fulfills the SAS Core standard ITR y. This assignment is designed to help learners understand the use of web-based tools that assist a teacher in completing research necessary for their work. The final essay is due in the E-Companion dropbox by 11:59 P.M. on 5/1. Specific details will follow in class.

I am here to listen if you have any questions and concerns. You can reach me via e-mail at brent.horbatt@gse.rutgers.edu, office phone, or through the E-Companion website. The course requires effort on your part and your grade will reflect that effort. This course is primarily about learning and teaching. I want you to see and understand the technological tools available to educators. More importantly, I want you to leave the class with new instructional strategies that promote higher order thinking skills. Most of all, I want this to be an enjoyable and enriching experience for you.

Academic Integrity:

All issues of academic integrity are referred to the Rutgers University policy on academic integrity. This policy can be found in detail on the University website at: <http://teachx.rutgers.edu/integrity/policy.html>.

I expect that you will comply with standards of academic integrity in this course. Assignments should be your own work, except in the case of a required group product. The consequence for violating policies of academic integrity and other elements of the student code of conduct are serious and can have a tremendous negative impact on your academic progress and future career.

Absence Policy:

Students are expected to attend all classes; if you expect to miss one or two classes, please use the University absence reporting website <https://sims.rutgers.edu/ssra/> to indicate the date and reason for your absence. An email is automatically sent to me.

Disability Policy:

Rutgers University welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University's educational programs. In order to receive consideration for reasonable accommodations, a student with a disability must contact the appropriate disability services office at the campus where you are officially enrolled, participate in an intake interview, and provide documentation:

<https://ods.rutgers.edu/students/documentation-guidelines>

If the documentation supports your request for reasonable accommodations, your campus's disability services office will provide you with a Letter of Accommodations. Please share this letter with your instructors and discuss the accommodations with them as early in your courses as possible. To begin this process, please complete the Registration form on the ODS web site at:

<https://ods.rutgers.edu/students/registration-form>

Teaching Standards:

This course will be based heavily upon ISTE NETS standards located here:

<http://www.iste.org/standards.aspx>

In addition, the course addresses the following New Jersey Professional Teaching Standards as they relate specifically to the area of computers and technology. You can find the complete listing of NJPTS here:

<http://www.state.nj.us/education/profdev/profstand/standards.pdf>
