Rutgers University welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University’s educational programs. In order to receive consideration for reasonable accommodations, a student with a disability must contact the appropriate disability services office at the campus where you are officially enrolled, participate in an intake interview, and provide documentations: <https://ods.rutgers.edu/students/documentation-guidelines>. If the documentation supports your request for reasonable accommodations, your campus’s disability services office will provide you with a Letter of Accommodations. Please share this letter with your instructors and discuss the accommodations with them as early in your courses as possible. To begin this process, please complete the Registration form on the ODS web site at: <https://ods.rutgers.edu/students/registration-form>.

Other description of course purposes, context, methods, etc.

This course serves as an introduction to the teaching of literacy in the upper elementary and middle school. The major focus of the course will be literacy instruction in grades 3 through 8 with some discussion of literacy learning at other levels. Throughout the semester, we will examine the ways in which the term “literacy” is constantly evolving in today’s society. In addition, we will explore the relationship between various areas of literacy, as well as the role of literacy across the curriculum. The course is designed to assist future teachers in developing the fundamental knowledge, skills/strategies and dispositions needed to carry out a literacy program where all students’ expertise in reading, writing and oral language is nurtured.

During each class session, we will explore research-based practices for building literacy in diverse learners. Classes will involve a variety of collaborative activities, such as discussing readings, examining curriculum/assessment materials, analyzing/developing lesson plans, participating in reading/writing workshops and other cooperative learning activities related to content and pedagogy. The instructor will also model lessons specially geared to grades 3 to 8 with an emphasis on higher order comprehension skills, vocabulary development, content area reading, expository writing and struggling readers. There will be an emphasis on exposure to upper elementary and adolescent literature.

Learning Goals & Objectives

At the end of the course, students should be able to...

- Articulate a philosophy of literacy instruction that emphasizes the interactive and integrative nature of language and builds upon these connections when creating learning opportunities.
- Demonstrate knowledge and skills that are needed for creating and implementing a literacy curriculum using small and large group work, collaborative learning, conferencing, and individual work based on professional standards.
- Identify, plan, and design literacy instruction based on students' needs, developmental progress, learning styles and prior knowledge.
- Identify and understand the characteristics, uses, advantages, and limitations of different types of assessments for evaluating how students learn, what they know and are able to do, and what kinds of experiences will support students' growth and development.
- Critically reflect on his/her teaching and learning.
- Identify and use available resources and materials for instructional planning.
- Articulate how educational research can be used as a means for continuous learning and development.

Course Organization

This course is organized into three "phases." Phase 1 covers the research and theory that frame instruction in the middle grades. This phase "sets the stage" for discussing literacy instruction in grades 3-8. You will learn about research, theory, and educational standards (both state and national) that guide teaching at this level. Phase II makes up the majority of the course and takes a close look at effective instruction in various literacy domains, including comprehension, vocabulary, fluency and word study. Phase II also introduces differentiation and critical literacy. Finally, Phase III gives special attention to the materials and instructional programs that can be used for literacy instruction. This final section of the course covers how to best use the materials available to teachers at this level with emphasis given to supporting literacy learning across disciplines.

Required Texts

- Tompkins, G. E. (2009). Literacy in the middle grades: Teaching reading and writing to fourth through eighth graders (2nd ed.). Boston: Pearson. (ISBN: 978-0132348492)
- One children's or young adult nonfiction or historical fiction text published since 2005. (Additional information on text selection will be given in class.)
- One professional book from a list provided in class for your professional development group (PDG)
- A variety of required readings in the form of PDF files, websites, online texts, etc. will be available through the Rutgers library system, provided online, and/or available through our class website.

Grading Policy & Turning in Assignments

Assignments are due as indicated on the course schedule. The syllabus, course schedule, and due dates can be found on our class website. You are responsible for knowing what the due dates are. Unless arrangements are made in advance of the due date, late assignments will not be accepted.

Some of your assignments require you to post information onto our class wiki website

(<http://RULiteracySP16.wikispaces.com/>). I will be regularly visiting the site, so please make sure all comments and responses are posted by their due dates. Major assignments can also be submitted to me by email (carmen.gordillo@gse.rutgers.edu) by their due date.

Participation Policy

Your active participation in this course is vital to the course and to your learning. Your colleagues and I depend on you to share your load of reading for helping make meaning, participating in discussions, giving feedback to your peers, sharing how you connect readings to classroom experiences, and so on. You are expected to participate in a variety of ways throughout the semester, and your various assignments and projects will incorporate participation as part of their grade. Additional information on requirements for class participation is provided below.

Evaluation of Course Work

The following will be considered and used when evaluating your work...

- Only work that meets professional standards will be accepted. As teachers, we are expected to clearly communicate information to parents, administrators, and colleagues. For this course, you are expected to hand in proofread work.
- You will be evaluated on clarity, conciseness, and organization of writing. Responsiveness to the task or question will also be evaluated (e.g., are you fulfilling the requirements of the assignment).
- Responses will be judged by completeness and depth. You must present the necessary amount of detail to support your points. Write or present as though your audience is not an expert on your topic and in a way that demonstrates depth of analysis of the topic.
- Your work must demonstrate independent judgment. This includes going beyond the information presented by others. Be critical, seeing both strengths and weaknesses, and support opinions with your own reasons.
- Be sure to pay attention to professional style. Papers should be typed or word-processed and follow APA format.

Grading Scale

A = 90% and above
B+ = 87 – 89.9%
B = 80 – 86.9%
C+ = 77 – 79.9%
C = 70 – 76.9%
D = 60 – 69.9%
F = below 60%

Grading Summary

A = Outstanding work
B = Good work
C = Satisfactory work
D = Poor work
F = Failing work

Academic Integrity Policy

Any violation of academic honesty is a serious offense and is therefore subject to an appropriate penalty. Refer to <http://academicintegrity.rutgers.edu/integrity.shtml> for a full explanation of policies.

Confidentiality

When discussing classroom situations during course sessions, do so carefully. Mask the name of a student on any written or visual work shared in class or used in an assignment. When discussing teaching practices you have observed in the field, be mindful of maintaining a tone of professional courtesy. Under no circumstances (whether in class or in casual conversation with friends) should you relate stories from classrooms or schools that may be embarrassing to teachers or students or that include sensitive information about a child or family.

EVALUATION OVERVIEW, ASSIGNMENTS & TENTATIVE SCHEDULE

Your overall course evaluation and final grade will be based on the following:

- | | |
|---|-----|
| 1. Attendance & Participation (in-class and online) | 20% |
| 2. Professional Development Group Workshop | 25% |
| 3. Mini-Documentary Project | 25% |
| 4. Lesson Plan | 15% |
| 5. Nonfiction / Historical Book Talk | 15% |

WEEKLY ATTENDANCE, PREPARATION, & PARTICIPATION

Your participation and attendance are necessary for you and your classmates to get the most out of this course. You are expected to attend every class session having completed all required readings. I do understand, however, that extenuating circumstances might result in an absence. If you miss class, use the university absence reporting website <https://sims.rutgers.edu/ssra/> to indicate the date and reason for your absence. An email is automatically sent to me, but I recommend also following up forwarding the same information directly to me. You are allowed one missed class without it having a negative impact on your grade. You will still be expected, however, to turn in any assignments that are due on that day. Missing additional class time will result in lost points. For example, you will not earn full credit if you arrive late/leave early regularly, miss more than one class, or if you do not actively participate both online and face-to-face.

In-class activities that I use to inform my planning count toward your participation grade. Activities related to readings will take the form of written reflections, article discussion group work, participation in online discussions, etc. At times materials prepared outside of class will also contribute to this portion of your grade.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT GROUP WORKSHOP

(Due: March 21st & April 4th)

You will participate in a professional development group (PDG) and final workshop during the second half of the semester. This will include selecting a professional text to study (from titles introduced in class). Groups will be formed based on interest, and you will have the opportunity to engage in dialogue and activities centered on the pedagogical and theoretical presentations of literacy instruction offered in the multiple texts. Upon completion of the experience, you will be asked to conduct a mini-workshop (no longer than 30 minutes) for your classmates. Recommended texts for your PDG groups will be posted on our class website and introduced in class.

NONFICTION / HISTORICAL BOOK TALK

(Due: Feb. 22nd)

You will read an award-winning text appropriate for use in grades 3 through 8 and present a multimedia book talk. The book should be a nonfiction or historical text and new to you. Select a text that has been published within the past 9-10 years. Examples of awards given to such books include the Newbery

Medal, Pura Belpré Award, and Robert F. Sibert Informational Book Medal.

Book talks will be presented and shared on our class wiki website. Programs such as MovieMaker, PowerPoint, Prezi, iMovie, and Screen-O-Matic can be used to create your presentation. Your multimedia presentations should be approximately 5-10 minutes in length. Additional details and requirements will be provided in class.

LESSON PLAN
(Due: March 28th)

This assignment requires you to develop a lesson that teaches some aspect of literacy, such as fluency, vocabulary, or comprehension. Be sure to cite course readings to provide a rationale for the target of instruction and the method that you will use. A lesson plan format will be provided in class along with further instructions. This assignment also provides you with the opportunity to review the lessons of some of your classmates and to offer them feedback.

MINI-DOCUMENTARY PROJECT
(Due: May 2nd)

This assignment will require you to create a digital documentary that explores either a content area topic of particular relevance to your teaching (e.g. science or social studies topic) or a “hot” topic related to literacy teaching (e.g. teaching English Language Learners, standardized assessments, digital literacies). More information about this project will be provided in class. In addition to completing the multimedia project, you will write a reflection about the experience.
